MacPherson has a history of longevity, production, and integrity in New England.

A.A. MacPherson Co., Inc boasts a modern 40,000 square foot warehouse, office building in Canton, MA, plus another 10,000 square feet of outdoor storage, located in a light industrial park, just twenty minutes from downtown Boston conveniently located off Route 128. Branch offices are located in Hartford, Connecticut; Concord, New Hampshire; Portland; Maine.

Mr. Alexander Angus MacPherson began his operation in November, 1940 in Boston as a sub-agent for a New York firm. He had been an electrical contractor for 21 years in West Haven, Connecticut. In 1944, he formed a partnership to cover all the New England states. His son, Bruce, joined the Agency in 1956 and, in 1964 the Agency was incorporated. In 1998, the company entered into an agreement with three key employees: Tom Sabin, Joe Gately and Brian Gardner to purchase the company. This ownership structure has led the Agency into the new Millennium. In January 2001, after a long and productive career, Bruce MacPherson retired.

A.A. MacPherson's vision is to be the leading electrical manufacturers' representative in New England. They represent the highest quality manufacturers, maintain the deepest concern for their customers, and treat their employees in a spirit of cooperation and fairness.
